

Lebanon Without Borders And Global Gibran

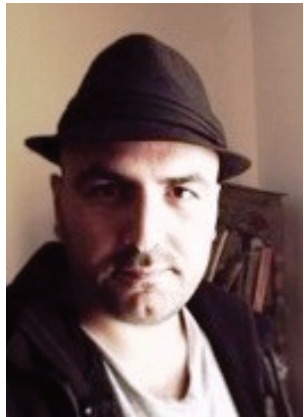

Two Lectures by Glen Kalem

Global Gibran – The Prophet and its Readership

Q : What do Elvis Presley, Carlos Slim Helu and Guantanamo Bay prisons have in common?

A : They all read and admired the work of Khalil Gibran.
Unearthing Global Gibran : his influence and legacy

Wednesday May 14
12 :00 to 1 :00
BB904

Glen Kalem, international Khalil Gibran researcher and historian, has spent the last 16 years unearthing the Global Gibran, his influence and legacy. While most scholars focused on the numbers and figures of Gibran's readership, Mr. Kalem asked the question that everybody else forgot to; who are they?

Lebanon Without Borders

10452 km² may be the geographical size of Lebanon but the Lebanese people's borders extend beyond.

Glen wants to visually document the biggest Lebanese family

« cedar » tree in history

Mapping the incredible footprint of the Lebanese worldwide via web and film.

Thursday May 15
12 :00 to 1 :00
Irwin B